Be on the lookout for Mrs. Abraham's 4th grade virtual choir. She invited the 4th grade students to make individual recordings that she has put together to make one song. Only a few of our 4th graders took the challenge, and the ones that did have done a great job. She's also utilizing her Quaver online music resources to continue to offer our students a chance to study and learn about music.

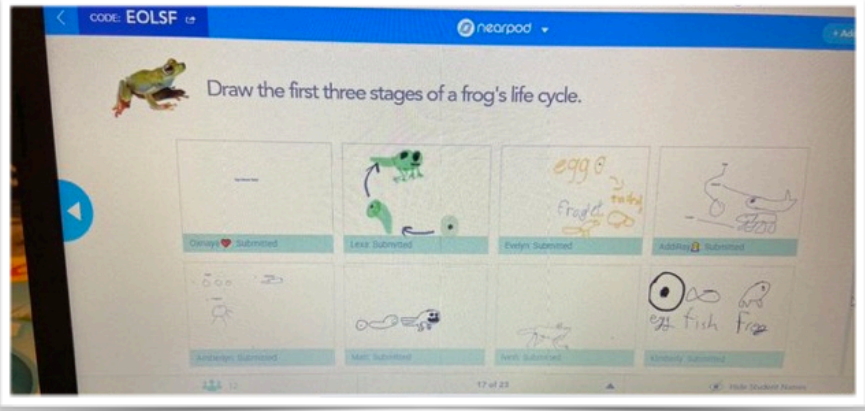

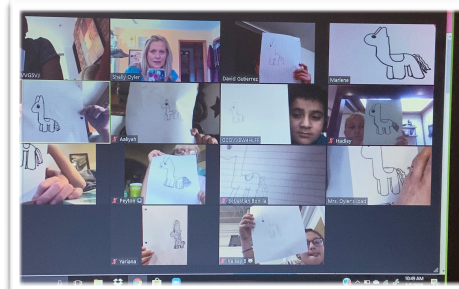

Our SW kitchen and support staff have been faithful and consistent in working together to get 4400-4500 meals ready every Monday to be delivered around town. Dolores Torres, Martha Lopez, Blanca Hernandez, and Avene Baker have been great at leading us through an efficient process to make sure families have been supported. We've rotated two teams of 6 support staff members to help them throughout the week. The work has been tedious and demanding, but through the leadership of our kitchen staff, it has been done with joy, laughter and smiles. It's been a pleasure watching our SW Family rally around and help out in a small way.

Pictured above: Mrs. Stanley's 2nd grade students showing one of their voice and choice activities through SeeSaw. SeeSaw has been a resource leaned on and utilized by our staff successfully throughout the year. During the pandemic, it has been a critical component to our communication with our SW students and families.

Pictured below: Mrs. Oyler's 3rd graders showing their art activities for Cinco de Mayo during their daily Zoom meeting. They were aided in their learning through a PBS kids show about the holiday.

- Pictured above: Nearpod has proven to be a valuable online resource during this pandemic. Teachers have been able to utilize it for classroom engagement activities. Students who have been unavailable to be in class are also able to complete Nearpod lessons through the “self paced” mode. With Nearpod already being utilized to help improve student engagement and feedback before Spring Break, we were able to seamlessly transition to using it in our distance learning model.

- Pictured below: Mrs. Sawatzky's 3rd graders joined in with Mrs. Watson's 2nd graders to answer questions about what 3rd grade will be like. The idea has led to all of our grades inviting and meeting with grade levels above and below to help students learn about their transitions into next school year.
