PROJECT SUMMARY AND BACKGROUND

This briefing seeks to provide some details about the benefits of NROC membership, as well as early plans in process to make NROC content resources and tools available to students and educators around the state of Nebraska.

In Fall 2015, Commissioner Blomstedt hosted a convening of secondary and post-secondary stakeholders in Lincoln to consider broader scaling of digital resources to impact student success. As a follow-up, in spring 2016 leadership from districts involved in ACT pilots convened in Lincoln and Scottsbluff to consider specific ways a tool like NROC's EdReady could support learners with personalized pathways for math skills review before taking or retaking the ACT. Several schools recognized this potential, as well as the possibility for adaptations to confirm readiness for Algebra 1 in middle schools. From this group, 5 schools expressed interest in working with EdReady in Fall 2016 - in defined use cases with measurable outcomes that could serve as implementation models for others across the state over time. Of these, Scottsbluff, Sidney and Hastings have begun to work with the tool to date – primarily for Algebra Readiness in middle school. Other schools continue to inquire about setting up EdReady to serve a variety of use cases. The challenges around managing local access to consistent and centralized training and support have made it difficult to follow-up and track the details. Along with statewide member Montana, NROC is offering special workshops to help larger systems and states develop strategies to better support this kind of breadth and depth of use.

In addition NROC resources are being used to support online, blended and personalized instruction across the state. Digital media from HippoCampus continues to be used across the curriculum and NROC Math and English resources are available for integration and adaptation within the learning management systems (LMS) of choice by each district. The attached Google analytics report shows the resources are being used across the state to support teaching and learning.

MID-YEAR CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS FOR MOVING FORWARD

The attached EdReady summary report shows the variety of assessments, goals and schools with active use across the state. Over the course of the past two years, nearly 1800 goals (groups with teachers) have been created for schools tapping into 100 different assessments that have been created for Nebraska, from grade level review in middle through high school to preparation for specific high-stakes math assessments (NESAs, Accuplacer, ACT). Nearly 5000 students have been active in EdReady, although many have not explored much beyond the initial diagnostic. The ACT-prep activity shows active use by nearly 300 students this fall, many making notable progress - particularly those who are being directed to spend time studying the resources. A number of schools also appear to be using the resources to support both remediation and acceleration of students working towards defined grade-level standards.

PROMISING USE CASES:

1. Increase the number of secondary students prepared to place into college level math classes (determined by ACT or placement score). Use of EdReady to prepare for initial or retake of high-stakes math assessments by juniors and seniors to ensure scores sufficient to skip remediation upon entering college).
2. Introduce middle school students to EdReady to *diagnose of competency gaps before entering Algebra 1.
3. Provide CTE paths in EdReady to engage students in math study and prepare them for degree and certificate program math pre-requisites.
4. EdReady math profiles to serve as an inventory of Math readiness for all transitions from grade-to-grade, onto college or career path (Nationwide we see growing potential as low-stakes college placement alternative).
5. NROC and HippoCampus content to support digital learning object repositories available statewide to support both digital curriculum development efforts and supplement instruction.
6. Metro CC Express has been using both HippoCampus and most-recently EdReady to serve adult learners and their use is also reflected in these reports.
7. NROC English and Math curriculum for LMS adaptations - installation packages have been downloaded by 13 ESU/districts, with active use of English by Joy Nolting (integrated reading and writing) at ESU 2.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

The steps outlined here and in the “Data-Driven Ecosystem Enhancing Teaching And Improving Learning for Students” (DE²TAILS) Innovative grant proposal address many of the opportunities that have been identified in early use of EdReady and efforts to expand use of the NROC’s low cost curricular resources and tools across districts.

- Coordinate efforts between NDE and ESUCC to build awareness of the NROC resources to support teaching and learning, especially efforts around BlendED and Personalized Learning.
- Offer dedicated central project management, professional development and administrative support from ESUCC to support impactful use of EdReady to track meaningful measures of college readiness over time.
- Follow strategic plan to support messaging, training and scaling from successful pilots to more widespread use.
- Integrate EdReady data into more extensive data dashboards for use by administrators, teachers and even parents.
- Identify next round of pilot scenarios to be supported and tracked through spring and summer 2017.
- Schedule monthly or bi-monthly meetings between NROC Success Team and Nebraska EdReady Leadership to review monthly data reports, challenges and new opportunities.

SUPPORTING DOCUMENTATION ATTACHED:

- 2016 HippoCampus Analytics shows broad geographic use with growing numbers of users, low bounce rates and generous study times.
- Registered HippoCampus Users shows nearly 1000 teachers have created their own accounts to make use of the site as a teaching tool (please note some teachers have multiple accounts for multiple course sections and a number of adult learners and homeschoolers are also included).
- 2016 EdReady Analytics shows wide-spread geographic use with growing numbers of users, low bounce rates and generous study times.
- 2016 EdReady Usage Report shows widespread use for both test preparation and teaching and learning over a variety of goals, and instructional levels with growth over the past two years.

Technology Committee Update

Scott Isaacson

February 1, 2017

Statewide Technology Plan

ADVISER Ed-Fi Dashboard

District interest has increased significantly over the last month. 30 new district applications to join the EAP process were received by NDE in January. Regular bi-weekly online meetings for the Early Adopter Program (EAP) districts, production districts and Virtual Support Team (VST) are scheduled. Aimee Muehling is now the project lead for ADVISER. As of January 31, NDE reports 137 districts participating in EAP, 65 have received a secret and key to publish data, and 35 are actively publishing data.

Multi-State Collaboration (K12 Federation)

The group is developing strategy for grant proposal(s) for next phase funding and long-term strategy for self-sustainability. Alliances have been formed with the IMS Global and Access4Learning standards organization and there are some additional interested educational institutions in Wisconsin and Massachusetts. The group presented at the FETC conference, with two representatives from Illinois attending the conference in person along with Scott and others assisting with presentations via Zoom.

Single Sign-On (SSO) and App Launch Portal

Eighty-eight (88) districts and ESUs are live in the production single sign-on framework. We implemented some configuration changes to the app launch portal during the week of January 23 which have improved the time to load portal pages and log in. Within February, both at the NOC training and through individual support ESUs will be equipped to begin managing the SSO connections for districts in their area.

Nebraska Cloud Infrastructure Support - Sustainability

The purpose of this effort is to seek the best way of providing statewide technology services through balancing efficiency, cost effectiveness, data protection, support and staffing. The more school districts and ESUs approach these needs together, the more we will all be able to improve service and reduce costs. The level cost of the current ESUCC hosting infrastructure, factoring in staffing, hardware, software, data center, and backup systems, appears to be approximately $1,200 annually per virtual machine being hosted. We will extend this analysis next to include core software services such as the SSO framework, portal, ADVISER and SRS. This will provide numbers for use in planning future budgets and needs.

SRS and AAP

Mike has been working during January to finish updates to the AAP software and will now focus on user-reported fixes and enhancements to SRS that have been deferred during the Zend conversion. After these high-priority items are completed, we will begin the next phase of upgrades, including optimizing the database to improve the performance and maintainability of the application and migrating to the most current Zend framework version, planned to be completed and in production during the summer of 2017.

Nebraska Innovation Grant

The award decisions for the Innovation Grant were deferred at the January state board meeting due to uncertainty about state finances and ability to fund the grant program. Awards may now be announced Friday, February 3, 2017. The ESUCC proposal is titled DE²TAILS - Data-Driven Ecosystem Enhancing Teaching and Learning for Students, and includes significant support for upgrading and integrating the SRS and AAP software to share data via the ADVISER data store, enhance the single sign-on and portal environment, to extend the BlendEd, NROC and EdReady pilot projects, and implement the SIMPL software.
