Part 1—Introduction

This guide is designed to help teachers and administrators interpret the Spring 21–22 Nebraska Student-Centered Assessment System (NSCAS) test reports in English Language Arts (ELA) and Mathematics in grades 3–8, and Science in grades 5 and 8. For more resources and information on NSCAS Growth testing, visit the Nebraska Assessment Portal at <https://nwea.force.com/nweaconnection/s/nebraska>.

About NSCAS Growth assessments

The Nebraska Student-Centered Assessment System (NSCAS) Growth assessments are administered in English Language Arts and Mathematics. These assessments were developed specifically for Nebraska to provide teachers, students, and parents with information on student learning strengths and needs throughout the year, as well as student progress in mastering college and career-ready skills based on Nebraska's Academic Standards. The NSCAS Science assessment also assesses student progress in mastering college and career ready skills but is a summative test rather than a growth test.

The NSCAS Growth assessments are comprised of items written or reviewed by Nebraska educators. The items were field tested during previous administration years, and additional items are field tested in each operational year to expand the number of available items for subsequent NSCAS Growth assessments. Students in grades 3–8 are administered assessments in English Language Arts (ELA) and Mathematics. Students in grades 5 and 8 are also administered Science assessments. Paper/pencil tests are available for students with a qualifying documented need.

Content standards

Nebraska's content area standards reflect the essential concepts and skills students are expected to know and perform to be considered college and career ready. In addition, NDE has identified essential competencies needed to meet the demands of the classroom and the world beyond.

These foundational skills, which are incorporated into all content area standards, are:

- Communication
- Problem solving
- Resource access and utilization
- Linking and generating knowledge

Student achievement reporting

Students' achievement on the NSCAS Growth assessments is reported as a scale score and achievement level.

Scale scores range from 2220–2890 for ELA and 1000–1550 for Math. The range for Science is being determined. The scale score is an estimate of student achievement. The estimate is generated based on the questions the student answered correctly and then converted to a standard scale.

The achievement level describes student's overall achievement. Achievement levels:

- Give meaning to the scale scores to help Nebraska students and parents use the results effectively
- Connect the scale scores on the tests to standards, which helps Nebraska educators support students to become college and career ready
- Meet the requirements of the U.S. Department of Education

The Nebraska State Board of Education has defined three achievement levels for each content area: Developing, On Track, and CCR Benchmark (Advanced).

*The CCR Benchmark achievement level is renamed to Advanced for Science assessments taken in Spring 2022. In the 22–23 academic year, Advanced will be used for all content areas instead of CCR Benchmark.

Setting the cut scores

A process called "standard setting" helps to determine two points along the scale score range (known as cut scores) that define the score range for each achievement level. Nebraska educators and stakeholders from around the state participated in the standard-setting process for the NSCAS Summative assessment. The cut score recommendations from this statewide committee were presented to the State Board of Education and adopted. ELA cut scores were adopted in 2017 and reviewed in 2018. Mathematics cut scores were adopted in 2018. These same cut scores are being used for NSCAS Growth assessments. Science cut scores are being developed.

Table 1: Scale Score Ranges by Grade on the following page presents the scale score ranges for each achievement level by content area. The On Track cut scores demark the minimum level of achievement considered to be proficient for accountability purposes. For example, the Grade 5 On Track cut scores are 2531 for ELA and 1236 for Mathematics.

Table 1: Scale Score Ranges by Grade

8	1050–1263	1264–1364	1365–1550

Achievement level descriptors

An achievement level is a range of scores that defines a specific level of student achievement, as articulated in the achievement level descriptors (ALDs). The ALDs are a plain-language description of what students must know in order to fall into each of the achievement levels established through cut scores. The ALDs thereby firmly root the cut scores and achievement levels in the content that students are supposed to learn. In qualitative and quantitative terms, the ALDs and cut scores together define the difference between a student who is performing at, below, or above grade-level expectations.

- Developing: Developing learners do not yet demonstrate proficiency in the knowledge and skills necessary at this grade level, as specified in the assessed Nebraska College and Career Ready Standards. These results provide evidence that the student may need additional support for academic success at the next grade level.
- On Track: On Track learners demonstrate proficiency in the knowledge and skills necessary at this grade level, as specified in the assessed Nebraska College and Career Ready Standards. These results provide evidence that the student will likely be ready for academic success at the next grade level.
- CCR Benchmark (Advanced)*: CCR Benchmark learners demonstrate advanced proficiency in the knowledge and skills necessary at this grade level, as specified in the assessed Nebraska College and Career Ready Standards. These results provide evidence that the student will likely be ready for academic success at the next grade level.

During the 2018 ELA cut score review and the Mathematics standard setting, panels of Nebraska educators established cut scores using the Item-Descriptor (ID) Matching procedure. With the ID Matching method, panelists make judgments about the knowledge and skills being measured by the items and how they compare to the ALDs. These judgments are based on the panelists' professional knowledge of the content and their experience with students.

*The CCR Benchmark achievement level is renamed to Advanced for Science assessments taken in Spring 2022. In the 22–23 academic year, Advanced will be used for all content areas instead of CCR Benchmark.

Estimated RIT scores

In addition to scale scores, student reports show the estimated RIT score, which is determined based on linking studies between MAP Growth and NSCAS scores. The estimated RIT helps place student achievement in context for educators who are familiar with MAP Growth.

The estimated RIT is provided on reports for the overall Math and ELA content areas. Estimated RIT is also provided for the reporting categories in each content area, except for the Writing Skills ELA reporting category.

Interpreting the test results

In the interpretation of test results, it is not appropriate to compare scale scores across content areas. Each content area is scaled separately; therefore, the scale scores for one content area cannot be compared to another content area.

Sample NSCAS reports and terminology explanations appear on the following pages to aid in understanding test results. The data in these reports are simulated and do not reflect results for Spring 21–22.

The following reports are described in this NSCAS Growth Reports Interpretive Guide:

Part 2—Student report

About the Student report

The Student report shows a student's achievement on the NSCAS Growth ELA, Mathematics, and Science[†] tests. The report shows the student's overall score and estimated RIT in a content area and in reporting categories, as well as the student's current achievement level, achievement percentile, and the average score for the district. You can also see the student's item responses (correct, incorrect, or partially correct) by reporting category, general information about each item, and the specific Nebraska College and Career Ready Standard to which each item is aligned.

Note: The Student report is designed for use by educators. This summer, an additional report called the Bulk Individual Student Report (ISR) will be available that is designed to communicate student performance on NSCAS assessments to families.

The Student report is available online through the testing platform.

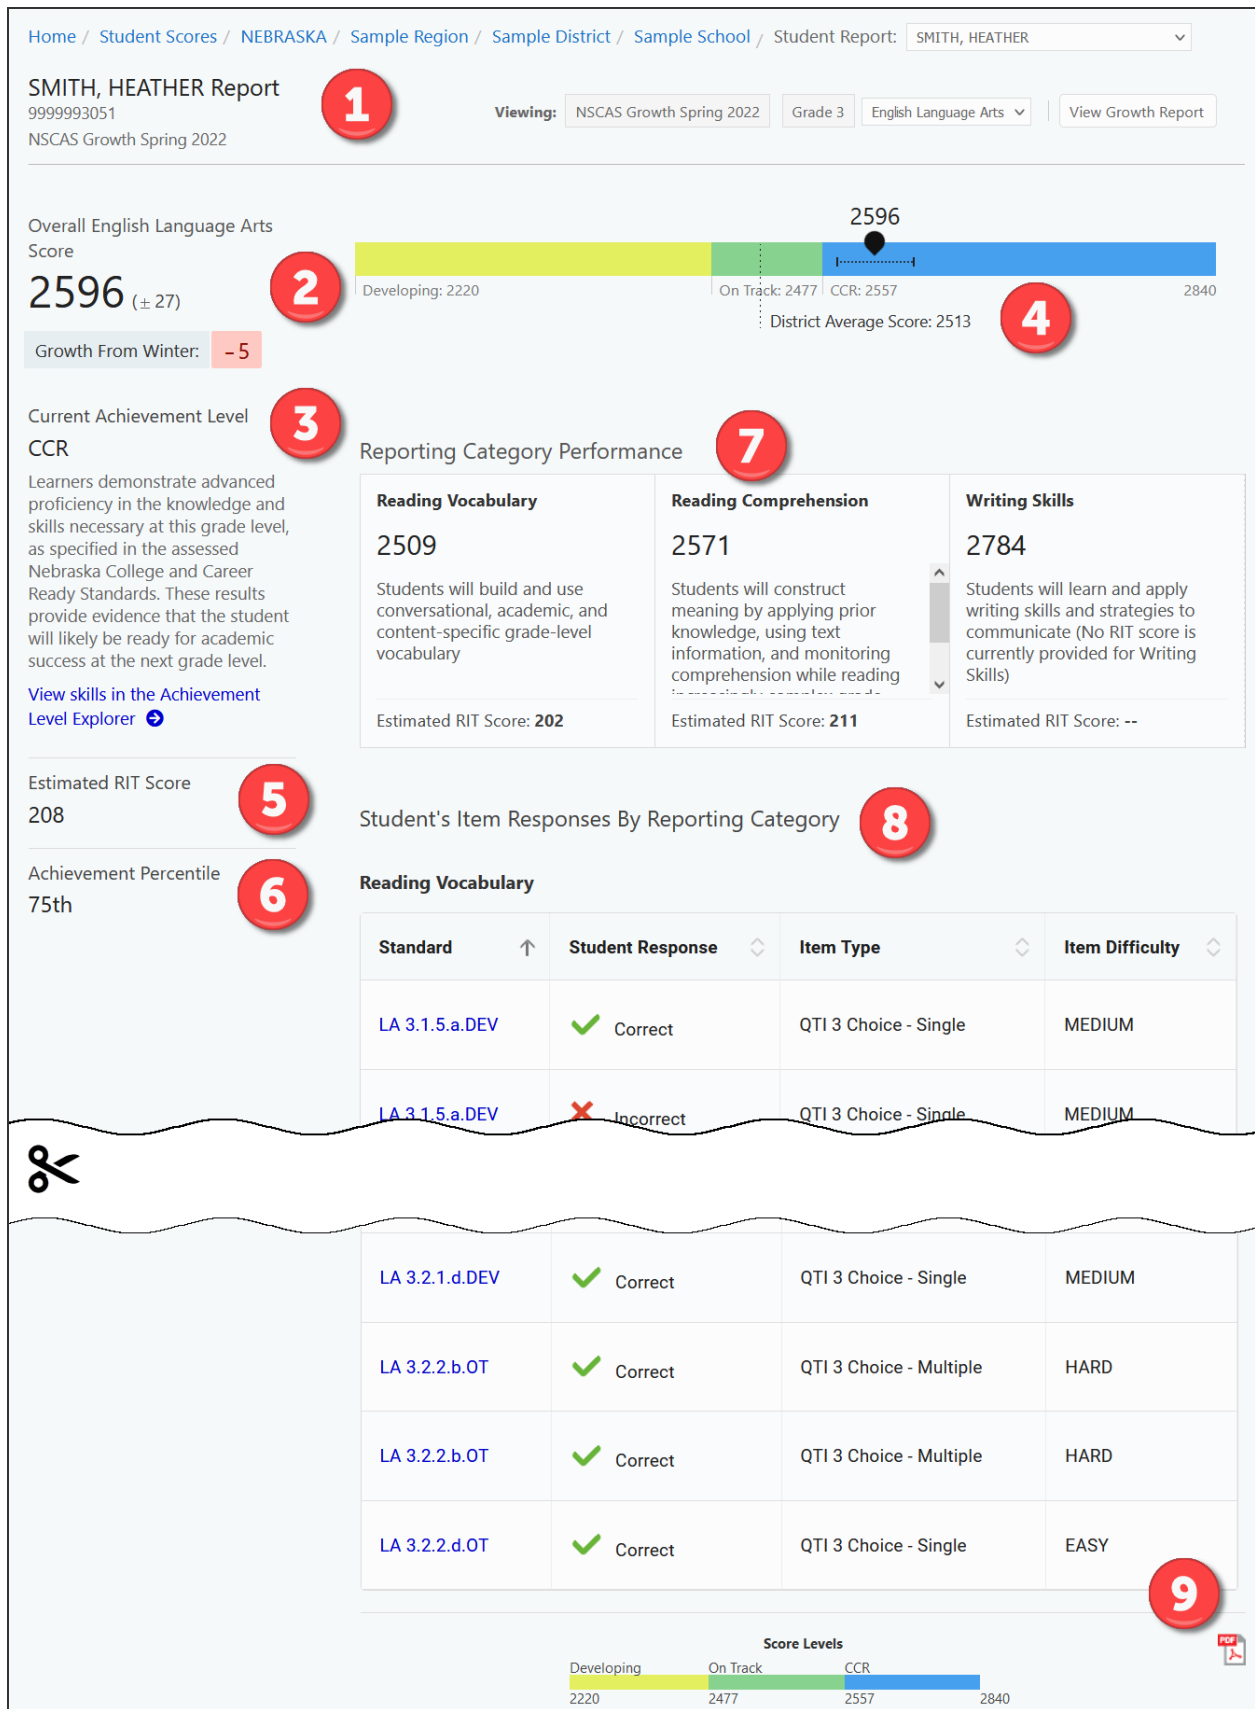

[†]Science tests are administered to students in grades 5 and 8. Science reports show an overall Science scale score, but no estimated RIT, percentiles, or reporting category scores. Achievement level cut scores will not be finalized until July 2022.

To access the report for a student:

1. In the main menu, select Reports > Student Scores.
2. At the top right, select the Student tab.
3. Enter the search criteria and select Find.
4. All reports matching the search criteria are listed. Select the report for the test administration and content area you wish to view.

You can also drill down to a student through a report for a group, school, or district you have access to.

1. Header and navigation

The header area of the report contains information about the student and their test, as well as navigation options. On the left, the student's name, ID, and the test season are listed. At the top, you can navigate to reports at different aggregation levels, or use the menu to select another student to view. On the right, you can see the student's grade, and switch between viewing different content areas. You can also use the View Growth Report button to view the Growth report for that student. Refer to Growth report on page 13 for details.

2. Score

At the top left, and in the graph at the top, you can find the student's overall score in the content area, along with the range for the score. The score range indicates that, if the student were tested again in similar circumstances, we would expect their score to be within the range. If the student has a score in this content area from earlier in the school year, the student's growth is listed.

3. Current Achievement Level

4. District Average

The average score for all students in the district is shown in the graph at the top.

Note that all averages and medians are updated as students continue testing; wait until the end of the test window to make comparisons based on school, district, or state averages and medians.

5. Estimated RIT Score

The student's estimated RIT score for the content area is shown on the left, while the estimated RIT score for each reporting category is in the Reporting Category Scores section. This score estimates what the student may be expected to achieve if they took the MAP Growth assessment. This estimate is based on the linking established between NSCAS and MAP Growth scores.

The estimated RIT score is available for both Math and ELA content areas, and for all reporting categories except Writing Skills.

6. Achievement Percentile

The student's achievement percentile compares the student to national norms, as reported in the 2020 MAP Growth norms. The achievement percentile is calculated using the estimated RIT score.

Note that the achievement percentile on NSCAS Growth reports is calculated assuming a default number of weeks of instruction prior to testing. MAP Growth reports can have the number of weeks of instruction customized, so you may see different achievement percentiles for the same RIT score if you view any saved MAP Growth reports from prior academic years.

7. Reporting Category Performance

This section shows the student's scale score and estimated RIT score for each reporting category, and the categories are briefly described.

8. Student's Item Responses By Reporting Category

This section shows how the student responded to each test item in each reporting category. You can see whether the student's answer was correct, incorrect, or partially correct, as well as the item type (such as multiple choice) and the item's relative difficulty.

The specific Nebraska College and Career Ready Standard to which the item is aligned is also listed. Select the standard code to read the standard in full.

Note: Some items may apply to multiple standards, and some items contribute to the NSCAS score, RIT score, or both. As a result, there may appear to be more than 40 items in this section.

Table 2: List of Item Types

Item type in Student report	Item type

Part 3—Growth report

The growth report shows an individual student's growth over the entire academic year. The student's scale scores for the current academic year are displayed on a graph showing the achievement levels and the district or school average for the content area[†]. Details for each test, including the student's overall score, growth from the previous test (if available), score range, and reporting category scores, are shown in a table below the graph.

[†]Science tests are administered to students in grades 5 and 8. Science reports show an overall Science scale score, but no estimated RIT, percentiles, or reporting category scores. Achievement level cut scores will not be finalized until July 2022.

To generate a growth report for a student, select the Growth link from the online student report. Refer to Student report on page 9 for details. Alternatively, generate the growth report directly by following these steps:

1. In the testing platform, select Menu > Reports > Student Scores.
2. Select the Growth tab.
3. From the menus, select the organization and content area as desired.
4. Enter the student's last name. This field is required.
5. Optionally, enter the student's first name and student state ID.
6. Select Find.
7. A list of students matching the search criteria appears. Select the student's name to view the report.

1. Compare to: Use this menu to switch between comparing the student to the district average and the school average.
2. Graph: The student's scale scores for this content area. The background colors indicate the achievement levels. Only the terms for which a student has completed scores are graphed. Tests with NTCs assigned are not graphed.

Note: If the student has fewer than 2 tests with a scale score for this school year, the graph will not appear. Since Science was only administered in Spring, there is no graph for Science.

3. Student's Test Scores: Each test the student has taken in this content area and school year appears in this table. Select the test name to view the report for that test. Refer to Student report on page 9 for more details.
4. Overall Score: The student's overall scale score for the test. The number in parentheses is the score range. The range indicates that, if the student were tested again in similar circumstances, we would expect their score to be within the range.
5. Growth from Previous: The amount the student's scale score increased (or decreased) from the student's previous test in this school year. If this is the first test or the only test in this school year, no growth appears.
6. Score Range: The student's score on the overall scale. The dot shows the student's scale score, and the lines show the range. The range indicates that, if the student were tested again in similar circumstances, we would expect their score to be within the range.
7. Reporting Category Scores: The scale score in each reporting category in this content area.

Take Aways

Positive

- This test had higher expectations...
- Gives us a starting point for comparison
- We will have an idea how we scored as compared to state average

Negative

- Does not show growth yet (why MAP testing is still important)
- Due to higher expectations based on the state level, our scores do not look as good as they do compared to the national level.

Summary

- MAP Testing continues to be important to measure growth.
- My hope is the NSCAS can measure this growth by next year.
- CCR Achievement is what we shoot for, but...
- Growth is the most important thing.
- We as a school district can only control so much of what our students learn and experience.
- We see student success, but we see room to grow as well.
