Along with the New World Singers, these three groups have been making waves across the growing a cappella community in Nebraska, including Superior performances at the Midland A Cappella Festival, the Northeast Jazz Festival, the NCDVA Vocal Jazz Festival, and the newly created Nebraska A Cappella Championships, which was hosted at CHS this past April. Neptune's Angles had a particularly strong year, including a Clinician's Choice Award at the NCDVA Vocal Jazz Festival, a Superior with Distinction at District Music Contest, and receiving first place overall out of 12 groups at the Nebraska A Cappella Championships.

H. Presentations

1. Maintenance Presentation

Executive Director of Building Operations and Technology Leonard Kwapnioski said Lost Creek has been having issues with carpeting especially on the south side. He said carpet will be changed out in six classrooms, and the accordion walls will be replaced with a solid wall with a door between them. The ceiling is also being replaced and there will be added electrical work done. The second phase of the project will be replacing the rest of the carpeting and ceilings in the building.

West Park will have the mechanical equipment replaced because it has aged and the boilers are leaking. These will be replaced with an on demand system. The old area will be turned into a food service storage area for the veggie and fruit bars. Kwapnioski said the district is always looking for what can be done to maximize efficiency. The high school islands in the parking lots will be paved. Kwapnioski said the rocky area around the plants has caused problems, and kids are throwing the rocks. The trees will be replanted elsewhere on the property with some going by the retention/detention pond and others going by the new STEM slab. He said maintenance will be working on improving the site this summer. This summer there is no building scheduled to be painted. The paint crew will be working on the exterior door frames and doors throughout the district. They will also be helping to stripe all the parking lots and paint some bathrooms across the district. The maintenance and grounds crew has been working on cleaning the sites up. The majority of the grounds at West Park and North Park have been addressed. Kwapnioski said the hope this summer to get the concrete mow strip around the middle school like at the high school. He said there is also a lot of miscellaneous items maintenance will be working on this summer.

M. Business Operations and Human Relations

1. Administrative Functions

1. Non-Profit Corporation

Dr. Loeffelholz, Mr. Melick, and Mr. Kwapnioski met with the Building and Sites Committee. The money for any expenses comes out of the maximum amount that can be assessed in the building and sites fund. Dr. Loeffelholz said there will be money left over for other things. Some board members expressed concern that by approving the nonprofit corporation, it would appear the district already made up its mind about the project, yet there are no details. He said the board did not need to approve this tonight, but this must be done first to allow for planning. Dr. Loeffelholz said a public hearing can be done when and if the board decides to access the money. He said the community is aware of what the district is looking at for the Kramer Education Center. Dr. Loeffelholz said right now the district is not spending anything. Dr. Loeffelholz told the board the only thing they were being asked to do tonight is create the corporation to borrow the money in the future. He said the board is not agreeing to spend a certain dollar amount, but it is just saying the amount will not exceed $5 million. There will be no payments until the district decides to borrow the money. In order to get some grant funding, the district must show that it is making a commitment and creating the nonprofit. Dr. Loeffelholz said just because the district creates the nonprofit doesn't mean it will ever be used. There will not be any additional tax dollars collected because this is already money being collected in the building and sites fund. Dr. Loeffelholz said once the plans become more concrete, a board will be created to oversee the nonprofit corporation. Board member Theresa Seipel said this will show other entities that CPS is moving forward. Dr. Loeffelholz said this is a step by step process, but if the board does not want to do this now then it pushes everything back. Board member Doug Willoughby said the board has not made a final decision to create the early childhood center, and this seems like it is already a done deal. Seipel said the board has made early childhood a priority, and it should be done now, and this is the first step in getting it accomplished. Seipel said if the community questions the decision, this will provide an opportunity for the board to explain. She said this way the district can get this accomplished without raising taxes and be done with it in seven years. This isn't locking the district into building anything right now. Dr. Loeffelholz said this must be done first before the district can enter into any other agreements. He said no money will be spent without the board approval. CPS turned in a grant two weeks ago, and this will open the door to apply for other grants to show the district is committed and can be counted as part of in-kind matching funds. Dr. Loeffelholz said the district's goal is to get some of the $5 million in grant funds.

2. Surplus Property

There were several old and outdated books removed from CHS, CMS and Lost Creek media centers.

3. Field Trip or Excursion Approval

The CHS Winter Percussion requested permission to go to the WGI World Percussion Championships in Dayton, OH. The group plans on leaving on Tuesday morning, April 14 and returning Saturday morning. Close-Up also requested funds to go to Washington DC next year. The cost per student will be $2,109 per student. Dr. Loeffelholz said in the past, the Board has given $4,000 for scholarships, and the CPS Foundation has given money as well. He said the students will do fundraising to help reduce the cost. The CHS JAG students went to a Career Development Conference in Ankeny, IA on May 2. The students competed against others high schools in categories such as math, problem solving, interviewing and resume writing, and graphic design and art. They also attended workshops on leadership and employment skills.

2. Updates

Melick said there are four teaching positions left to fill:

speech and language pathologist, high school English, high school science and early childhood. He said there have been 32 new staff hired and 17 in-district transfers. Principals have been busy hiring. Melick said it has been challenging trying to recode all the budget items. Next year there will be all new codes. Melick said this is being required because it will make it easier to follow the money and show more transparency. He said this will also allow people to compare districts to see how the money is being spent.

N. Buildings & Sites/Technology

1. Administrative Functions

2. Updates

Executive Director of Business Operations and Technology Leonard Kwapnioski said the panels and insulation are up at the Kramer Education Center. He said the portable has also been removed. Kwapnioski said over the next couple of months, he will be spending some money to update all the networks in the district. He said the cost will be around $63,000, and he plans to buy everything upfront. Kwapnioski said most of the project will be reimbursed, and he will file for this in July. Kwapnioski said this is a great opportunity for the district, and the money will be coming out of the depreciation fund and will be put back once the reimbursement is received. Kwapnioski said the portable at West Park will be moved shortly. He said Dr. Loeffelholz has received his new computer and 100 of the staff have new machines already with 80 more being distributed tomorrow at CMS. Lost Creek, West Park and North Park will receive machines on Friday and Centennial on Thursday. Kwapnioski said the building secretaries will be the first classified staff to receive machines since they will be leaving.

O. Curriculum and Instruction

1. Administrative Functions

2. Updates

Tracking growth and improvement - The goal is to have 100 percent of teachers show evidence of tech integration at all levels of the SAMR mode. Tech Integration Specialist Brandi Fleming said this is the first year for K-12 to be one to one with devices. Last spring, the media specials and Fleming worked to provide a model to provide common language, initial training of the model and coaching and support. Fleming said the SAMR model is a tech framework that categorizes four levels of classroom tech integration, provides a common language for tech integration across all grade levels and a content shift from teacher center to student centered technology. Fleming said the areas are: Redefinition Technology allows for the creation of new task previous inconceivable; Modification Technology allows for significant task redesign; Augmentation is a little more advanced but still teacher centered with functional improvement; and Substitution Technology is more teacher centered with no functional change. Fleming said the first-year teachers had to learn how to apply technology in all areas and not reteach a tool. A survey was sent to teachers at the end of quarter one asking if they integrated technology at any levels. Fleming said the point of the survey was to get data. Another survey was sent at quarter three to see if there was any growth. She said there was not a huge change from quarter one to quarter three. Fleming said the teachers are learning where technology fits appropriately. She said teachers will continue to be given surveys and to see how the curriculum department can support them. The media specialists are the front line in all buildings. Fleming said the media specialist and she try to meet with every teacher quarters 1, 2 and 3 during the school day. Fleming said they are not looking for everyone to be at level three and four all the time. She said they would like to see more people take a risk and get to those levels.

Executive Director of Curriculum and Instruction Amy Romshek said there has been some changes in the Global Destination Imagination. Last year there were 26 students plus four managers who attended, and the cost was $23,250 plus $2,000 for gas and hotel for total of $25,250. This year $22,000 for the team, and parents will pay $1,800 for hotel and food and $800 for gas and parking. This brings the total cost to $24,600. Romshek said there is probably around the same amount of students going this year. Board member Mike Jeffryes said they are now staying in downtown Kansas City and all the kids are at different hotels. In the past, all participants stayed in dorms.

EdReports.org helps the district to find quality materials. Romshek said it is an independent nonprofit designed to improve K-12 education. The report provides independent analyses of instructional materials. Romshek said several foundations provide support for this group. She said this is not the entire selection progress it is part of it. She said the report is about 20 pages long. The report shows indicates for all the categories. Romshek said the company is using national standards for alignment. EdReports.org takes about four to six months to review the materials.

1. Social Media

Fleming said the district is looking at modifying the staff social media guidelines. She said there needs to be a strict division between personal and professional. She said most of the guidelines are to help staff get through this process. Classroom teachers should not post kids to their personal page. It can be posted on their professional page first and then shared to the personal page. She said there is still a lot of opportunities to teach kids about safely using social media. Fleming said the staff is being told now with the hopes that personal and professional will be separated by August. Fleming said the document is still a work in progress. She told the board to let her know if they have any questions or concerns. Fleming said one of the biggest changes is teachers will be expected to know who is on the do not photo list in their classes. Dr. Loeffelholz said it is tricky for staff who work in the district and are also parents. He said if attending an event as a district employee, people can't take pictures of their child and other kids. If it is on their own time, they can take what they want for photos, but they must be posted to the classroom page first and then shared. Once people sign a contract with CPS, no matter what they do they are still associated with the school. Fleming said the policy is just asking staff to be aware of their surroundings. She said one easy fix is to take off the employment on the personal page. The professional approved social media avenues are Facebook, Twitter or Instagram. If staff members want another social media account, they must request one in writing from the Superintendent. Fleming said the policy is designed to protect everyone.

P. Student Services

1. Administrative Functions

2. Updates

Executive Director of Student Services & Special Education Jason Harris said the Community for Kids grant has been submitted. He said the group will next meet on June 3 and hopefully CPS will find out if it is approved. This grant will allow focus groups to be formed, connect the district with other grant and fundraising opportunities and connect with donors who have done similar projects. Harris said board members Theresa Seipel and Mike Goos will now be invited to attend the meetings as the district moves forward.

Q. Superintendent's Report

Dr. Loeffelholz thanked the board for attending graduation yesterday. He said it was a good ceremony. The Legislative session will end early. Dr. Loeffelholz said there are still several bills that could impact education. He said one of these is LB147, which allows teachers to restrain students. This bill did not make it out of committee but a senator can request it to come out by a vote of the legislature. Dr. Loeffelholz said there are several issues with this bill including that all teachers will need to be trained on how to restrain a student. He said he is hoping it does not pass. Sherwood Foundation representatives did a tour of the high school STEM area to see where their matching funds went. If the library project can be completed, CPS would get an additional $50,000 bonus. Dr. Loeffelholz said the foundation representatives were very impressed with the STEM area. He said the planning meeting for the new library was held and the group seems more willing to listen this time. Dr. Loeffelholz said there was not a large turnout for the meeting but there was some good input. The Columbus Economic Council still has the high school at the top of the list for funding. He said he and CPS Marketing Director Nicole Anderson held a meeting with 40 businesses to see where STEM education was going next. Areas that were identified as needs include: business and marketing management, early childhood and health care. The principals all did their continuous improvement presentation report to the administration and will give it to the board at the retreat. Dr. Loeffelholz said he is recommending the board only have one meeting in June and July. He suggested the second Monday in July for retreat or in early August. Dr. Loeffelholz said he will talk with Candy Becher to come up with some dates. He reminded the board they must do the superintendent evaluation next month. He said the board will be sent a survey to fill out electronically with all the information going to the board president. The evaluation must be done by the next board meeting. Dr. Loeffelholz will send the survey out by the end of the week with a deadline of June 5.

R. Board Sharing

Theresa Seipel said she enjoyed graduation. She also said she hopes all the staff knows how much the board appreciates all they do, and they enjoy the summer break. Seipel said she hopes Steve Woodside and Jackie Herink enjoys their retirement. Doug Willoughby thanked Woodside and Herink for their years of service and encouraged them to consider subbing for the district. Doug Molczyk thanked Woodside and Herink for their years of service and said they will be greatly missed. He appreciates all the staff and what they do. Molczyk said the CHS vocal music performance was outstanding, and he even watched the soccer game at the same time. He said the CMS Band concert was also good. He said it is great to see all the students and their achievements. Molczyk said this is his favorite board meeting of the year. Candy Becher said CHS student Jayden Boesch invited her to see his robotics presentation, which he wrote 10 pages of code. She said it was performed in front of the businesses, and they were very impressed with his work. Becher said it is exciting to see what CPS students are doing. She said the presentation was really good PR for the district. Becher thanked Woodside and Herink for their years of service and said their experience will be hard to replace. Mike Jeffryes also thanked Woodside and Herink for the service to the district and wished them luck in their retirement. He said it was a really cool experience to see his first child graduate from CPS.

He thanked the district, and administration for the job they did in helping her reach the goal. Jeffryes said he loves the small-town pride, and Columbus is a fantastic. He said it was exciting to see his daughter graduate from his alma mater. Jeffryes said it is amazing to see how far CPS has progressed in the last 25 years, and he is excited about CPS's future

Program Excellence Award

On behalf of Columbus High School, we are honored to recognize the CHS Skilled and Technical Sciences Department for being a recipient of the 2019 ITEEA Program Excellence Award. ITEEA stands for the International Technology and Engineering Educators Association.

The school received a recognition plaque with department members receiving a congratulatory certificate signed by the ITEEA President Spicer and ITEEA Executive Director Barbato. Current members of the CHS Skilled and Technical Sciences department are Tracy Dodson, Marcus Gillespie, Ron Haefner, Joseph Krysl and Adam Whitmore

The ITEEA Program Excellence Award is sponsored by ITEEA and Paxton/Patterson. The Program Excellence Award is one of the highest honors given to technology and engineering education programs at the elementary, middle, and high school levels. The Program Excellence Award is presented in recognition of outstanding contributions to the profession and students. Awards are given to one program from each category at the elementary, middle, and high school levels from every state (within the USA and its territories) as well as internationally based on ITEEA International Center Agreements.

The Program Excellence Award program is designed to recognize superior K-12 technology and engineering education programs from around the world. These award-winning programs serve as a standard for comparison and models for the development of other programs. Therefore, it is essential that each program selected and recognized reflects contemporary technology engineering education. Awardees serve as models for their colleagues, inspiration to their communities, and leaders in their region, province, or state as proponents of advancing technological literacy for all.

I.E. Presentations

I.E.1. Bank of the Valley Presentation

Bank of the Valley presented CPS with a check for $2,317.83. Dee Hansen with Bank of the Valley said the money comes from the School Pride Credit Card Program. She said the program was started in 2015, and CPS is one of 8 schools the bank has a partnership with. Hansen said the school branded credit card is the bank's way of saying thank you to the local schools. She said the money can be used however the district wants. There were 83 CPS credit cards that were issued. The total amount so far given to the district was $3,483.72.

I.E.2. Early Childhood Education Presentation

I.E.3. CHS Math Presentation

CHS math teacher Wendy Shotkoski said math teachers and Executive Director of Curriculum and Instruction Amy Romshek went to LPS to observe how they use the Algebra 1 CPM books. She said the new math is problem-based learning. Shotkoski said the math teachers felt this was the best direction for the department to go. She said this will be a big change from what is currently being used. The books will be phased in over a three-year period. Shotkoski said the kids will get a deeper understanding of the content and why it is important. She said there are also a lot of activities that go with the chapters, and right now they must find everything on their own.

Basic, regular and honors algebra and geometry will all use the same textbook. Shotkoski said the book also does a lot of review, so the kids won't forget what they learned and it also incorporates group and partner work. She said in the class they observed, it was high level thinking for an algebra 1 class. Shotkoski said the parent guide provides some examples of how to do the work in case students are not understanding the concepts. The freshmen coming in next year will have four years with the new math curriculum. This company also will do eight days of training in the summer and come in three times during the school year. Shotkoski said the training is very beneficial. Amy Romshek said CPS hopes to partner with LPS over the next few years to share ideas. Shotkoski said the math department would be interested in having more honors math courses. She said LPS felt their students were further along in using the concepts of algebra 1 in the new book than in the past. Shotkoski said with the new algebra I, the rigor will be bumped up. In addition to the high school, algebra materials will be ordered for the eighth graders. Some board members expressed concerns about this being a big jump for students. Romshek said this could be, but Shotkoski said that elementary is using a similar curriculum, so the question mark is the middle school. Romshek said the teachers believe this will be a better way to teach math.

The exact number of students needing materials is not known at this time. Romshek said the overall cost is reasonable when compared to other materials that have been used. The estimated cost of the new books is $70,881. The E-Books that come with the new math series are updated yearly. Romshek said she also wanted the board to be aware that technical math and probability and stats were going to be new dual credit courses next year. She estimated the total costs for those books at about $36,000, and CPS will need to cover part of the cost.

I.E.4. Centennial Presentation

At Centennial, there are currently 43 preschool students and a K-4 enrollment of 328 for a total of 371 students. Centennial is 57 percent white/Caucasian, 36 percent Hispanic and 7 percent other. There are 64 percent who are on free/reduced lunch, and the mobility rate is 15 percent with 28 students transferring in and 20 students who left since the beginning of the year. Centennial Principal Jackie Herink said there are a lot of new teachers, and there are several that have between 11-20 years of experience. She said staff have been focusing on BIST for professional development. Herink said staff found there needed to be more consistency across the building. She said there are five things they wanted to make sure teachers were doing every day. At the end of each quarter, teachers rate themselves on how consistent they have done on the five things.

Another new thing started this year was reviewing and practicing skills each week. She said at assemblies, homerooms are recognized and awarded, and students are recognized for achievement. Herink said they also started doing UBUNTU this year, which is a philosophy that translate into the success or needs of the group are more important than those of an individual. Some of the concepts include: sharing, friendships, understanding Teamwork, and human kindness. Herink said this help to build a sense of community in the school. Every month two homerooms are paired up, and they do an activity with the older students mentoring and guiding the younger students. She said for many years, Centennial has done one book every spring. The PAC buys a copy of book for every student. This year the book is The Mouse and the Motorcycle. Herink said there are activities to go with the chapters in the book. She said they also hold a trivia contest based on questions about the book. Centennial also makes a school movie every year, and they show the movie at the start of every assembly. The students select the song to go with the video.

I.F. Board Special Functions

I.F.1. Policy 507.02 Student Directory Information

Student directory information is a policy that allows what information can be given out about students. Superintendent Dr. Troy Loeffelholz said groups can come in ask for a list of names and addresses of students. He told the board they can make this as simple or complex as possible. Dr. Loeffelholz said it is always a question of what information the district can or can't share. Board members asked if certain groups could be denied information. They said there may be groups that are nonprofit who the district doesn't want to share the information with. Dr. Loeffelholz said there is certain information that the district must share. The board wants the following things removed from the policy: email, other similar information and major field of study. When people request things, Dr. Loeffelholz said the district can't have any gray areas. Dr. Loeffelholz said the district needs to be specific and simple. He suggested adding parents to the directory information. Dr. Loeffelholz said if this is done, the district could require it be sent to the parents and not just the student. Dr. Loeffelholz said he will make the changes and bring it back to the board next Monday.

I.I.2.1. Fundraising Application

CPS and ESU 7 collected items to help school districts impacted by the flood. Support went to Niobrara, Bellevue, Peru, Schuyler and Valley. Brandenburg Lakes also received cleaning materials. There were two large truck loads of donations that came from Lincoln. Since the project went to an outside agency, a fundraising form had to be submitted to the board, Melick said.

I.I.3. Updates

I.J. Buildings & Sites/Technology

I.J.1. Policies

I.J.2. Administrative Functions

I.J.2.1. Inter-State Studios Contract for 2019-20

There were five companies who expressed an interest in bidding on the contract, but only three submitted bids. The recommended bid will be from Inter-State Studios and would be for a three-year period. As part of the agreement, the company will also cover the printer for the badges as well as all the supplies needed for the three-year time period. There will be online storage for all pictures, and it will be web based. CPS will receive $2 per student photographed per school. Executive Director of Technology and Operations Leonard Kwapnioski said if Inter-State Studio fails to meet any of the requirements, they can be dropped right away. He said another thing he required was the company give releases, so parents and students can get prints made some place else.

I.J.3. Updates

Kwapnioski said Dr. Loeffelholz and he will be picking out the color of the south wall soon. He said the chimney will also need to be lowered.

I.K. Curriculum and Instruction

I.K.1. Policies

I.K.2. Administrative Functions

I.K.3. Updates

Executive Director of Curriculum and Instruction Amy Romshek updated the board on the school improvement plan. She said part of the process is defining a goal and measuring the progress. Romshek said the goal is for a 100 percent of eligible students to attend preschool at CPS and for students to show growth. She said they will measure the goal by looking at how many kindergarteners attend preschool. Executive Director of Student Service Jason Harris said they have collected three years of data, and as the kindergarten numbers increase, those attending preschool dropped. In 2016-17, there were 69 percent who attended preschool; in 2017-18 52 percent; and 2018-19 50 percent. Preschool students are assessed in October and in May. Harris said this assessment is difficult because the teachers must rank the students based on expectations. The test shows there was an increase in meets or exceeds goals in social and emotional, physical, and math. Language and cognitive are lower because of EL and special education students. Next year there are 134 enrolled in preschool and 30 on a wait list. Harris said the district tries to take the at-risk kids first, which factors in several things. He said the main thing that is hoped for is there is growth between the October and May assessment. Harris said even with the new center, there will probably still be a waiting list. This year was the first time at kindergarten registration that it was asked what preschool did your child attend, and data will be collected. Romshek said students are scoring an 80 percent or above on meeting or exceeding test expectations.

I.L. Student Services

I.L.1. Policies

I.L.2. Administrative Functions

I.L.2.1. Special Education Service Agreement with ESU7 for 2019-2020

Harris said CPS contracts with ESU 7 for vision, orientation and mobility and resource coaching. Harris said this is an estimate for next year based on what he feels the district will need. CPS has some students who have vision problems and there are not a lot of vision teachers. The estimated cost is $141,414.16

I.L.3. Updates

Harris said district administration met with Community for Kids from Norfolk. The number of children not in public or private preschool or daycare was 480, but it did not drop significantly when the hospital opened a daycare and preschool. He said he is hoping that stakeholders will buy into using Community 4 Kids. He said this group helps communities coordinate planning and access to high quality education and childcare; helps engage stakeholders for strengths and needs; helps to create and use self-assessment for a business plan; helps connect with other communities to explore needs. The next meeting will be on April 16, and the community partners must be on board. Next the Community for Kids application must be completed as well as an early childhood system of care self-assessment; and visiting other communities and developing a plan. Board member Mike Jeffryes agreed that all kids need to go to preschool, but he is not sure if they all need to go to CPS. He said he understands that other schools don't use the same methods as CPS, but he doesn't want to drive people out of business. Harris said the students on the waiting list cannot afford a private preschool. He said 90 percent of the families on the wait list won't search out a private preschool. Board member Candy Becher wanted to know how the other preschools feel about what CPS is planning. Harris feels there will be more issues from the community about the daycare piece than preschool. Dr. Loeffelholz said there are companies in town that are willing to pay for some of the daycare costs if they can get employees on different work shifts. Board member Mike Goos said families don't know where to send kids for daycare. Dr. Loeffelholz said if this is done correctly, all of the preschool and daycare providers will find their nitch. He said CPS target audience is the group no one else has.

I.M. Superintendent's Report

Dr. Loeffelholz said on Friday, Nicole Anderson, Jeri Otten and he will go to Omaha for a public relations conference and meet with Clark Creative Group on branding. He said the district is trying to make sure the logo stays with CPS and no one else can replicate it. He said another piece is getting one uniformed logo district wide, and it must be approved by Ms. Anderson before being used on shirts and other items. He thanked the board for going to the national convention. He said he plans to share some things on marketing and public relations that he learned. The Chamber dinner is next Tuesday and if the board is interesting in going, they need to notify Cherie VanDyke. The honors breakfast is Wednesday starting at 6:45 a.m. at the American Legion. The employee banquet is April 26. Quality of Life has expressed an interest in the Anchor Activities Complex and Kramer Education Center and would like CPS to give a presentation to the Chamber. State aid certification will be on or before June 1. The middle school musical was wonderful. Jeffryes said the DI kids also did very well with several teams qualifying for nationals.

They have also fundraised $4,500 and are committed to raising another $4,000. Dr. Loeffelholz said the parents will pay for the hotels this year. He said this year teams were charged $5,500 per team. He said last year each student paid a fee, and it covered room and board, and this year it did not, which is why the parents agreed to cover this expense. Executive Director of Curriculum and Instruction Amy Romshek said she also has some funds available that could be used to help fund the trip.

I.P. Superintendent's Report

Dr. Loeffelholz said the fundraising for STEM has been going on for six years. He said recently several companies were invited to discuss where the program is going in the next 10 years. Dr. Loeffelholz said it was discussed with the STEM teachers what the needed are. There were over 30 people in attendance. Dr. Loeffelholz said the focus of the conversation was the next steps for the STEM program and business connection. Executive Director of Student Services Jason Harris and Dr. Loeffelholz attended a second meeting with Community for Kids to discuss early childhood. CHS Assistant Principal Jason Schapmann said the high school has been working to get businesses in town to partner with for job shadowing experiences for students. He said the idea is to recruit and retain our own. There are currently many taking advantage of shadowing experiences. Executive Director of Technology and Operations Leonard Kwapnioski said the Mike Rowe Foundation offers scholarships for kids going into jobs that are underserved. He said the district may want to look into this opportunity for students.

I.P.1. Flood Relief Report

Dr. Loeffelholz said CPS employees donated 100 plus hours to helping with the flood relief effort, and this does not include family members who assisted. Items donated went to Boyd County Schools in Spencer; Peru, NE; Schuyler, NE; Plattsmouth Public Schools; DC West; NE Fur Baby Fundraiser; Columbus Rescue Mission; Simon House; Central Community College; Columbus YMCA; Youth for Christ; Columbus Comfort Closets; Columbus Area United Way/1C Donation Center; and Brandenburg Lake Homeowners. There were $950 worth of gift cards donated BoomTown and Berkshire Hathaway Premier Real Estate. Shred Monster also donated the truck and driver to get the items to those in need. In cash donations, there was $2,420.11, which does not include the $685 raised by a fundraiser hosted by the Centennial Student Council. Lost Creek will also be selling May Day Baskets with the proceeds going to flood relief. The CPS staff raised $1,200. Some of the items donated included: 16 Pallets of water; 7 Pallets of paper products; 4 Pallets of bleach; 10 Pallets of Cleaning Solution; 4 Pallets of Food; 2 Pallets of Trash Bags; 2 Pallets of Diapers; 1,500 pairs of work gloves and disposable gloves; hundreds of cleaning supplies such as sponges, towels, scrub brushes, mops, brooms and more; Hundreds of personal product items (94 bars of soap, 81 bottles of hand soap, 250 toothbrushes as a few examples); 167 masks; and shovels, rakes dust pans, clothing, formula. Dr. Loeffelholz said he has remained in contact with the schools and if they need anything else, more supplies can be collected. He said a press release will be going out tomorrow. He said there were more staff than students impacted by the flooding. Dr. Loeffelholz said there were four staff members who either lost their homes or had significant damage. Candy Becher said it is nice to see CPS step up to help.

I.P.2. Employee Banquet/April 26, 2019

Dr. Loeffelholz told the board if they were planning on attending the employee banquet, please get the ticket from Cherie VanDyke after the meeting.

I.Q. Board Sharing

Mike Jeffryes said the middle school musical was fantastic it looked like a million-dollar production. He said prom went well and he thanked CMS for letting them use their facility for post prom. Jeffryes said he attended the new board member events at the national conference and learned a lot. Doug Willoughby enjoyed the national conference in Philadelphia a lot. He said he attended a session on resilience and the separation of church and state. Willoughby said he has received his first graduation invite already. Mike Goos said it is the best time of the year to be on the school board with graduation coming up. He said Philadelphia was great convention. He said he purchased books by the keynote speakers and had them signed. Goos said CPS is in a place at where administration and staff could be presenting because there is a story to tell. He said CPS is on the map at the state level and is in a different place than a few years ago. Goos said although the conference was good, there was a lot of repetition from previous years, and CPS could bring more to the table. Dr. Loeffelholz said he and the administration can look into presenting next year in Chicago, and there are many options. He said the state convention is also looking for presentations, so they could come up with something for there as well.

Doug Molczyk said he attended a session on bullying prevention, and a lot of classes he attended had things that CPS is doing already. He said he also attended one on how to deal with negative people. Molczyk said CPS is doing exactly what they the experts are recommending. He said many schools are working at getting kids ready for the workplace right out of high school. Molczyk said the birth rate is not keeping up with the jobs. He said the STEM program is doing that already. Molczyk suggested presenting on how CPS is preparing kids for the work place because it would benefit other districts. Theresa Seipel said she had a wonderful time with her granddaughter. She said she wished she could have gone to Philadelphia. Seipel said she likes that CHS is heading into the health career fields with STEM, and she is excited about the Kramer Early Education Center. She said CPS has always been ahead of the curve, and the story should be told. Candy Becher said she took away from the conference that schools are covering a lot of the areas but are not creating creativity. One of the speakers said writing is what students need and without this skill they won't make it. She said CPS could get creativity by adding arts and making it STEAM instead of just STEM. Becher said it was a great conference and she was thankful she attended. Goos said it is also a great opportunity to network with other school board members.
